PROTECTION OF PERSONAL INFORMATION ACT, 4 OF 2013 ("POPIA")

To facilitate the implementation, administration and performance of the contractual and/or other commercial relationship(s) between Freshling (Pty) Ltd ("Freshling") and yourself, and/or for certain other legitimate interests of Freshling or yourself, it may be necessary for Freshling to collect, hold and process (as defined in POPIA) certain personal information (as defined in POPIA) about you, and to transfer this personal information to certain third parties. You hereby explicitly and unambiguously consent to Freshling's collection, processing and transfer, in electronic or other form, of your personal information for the purposes of implementing, administering and performing the aforementioned contractual and/or other commercial relationship(s) and for Freshling and/or your other legitimate interests.

Freshling undertakes to at all time comply with the provisions of POPIA for as far as its collection, processing and transfer of your personal information is concerned.

You understand and acknowledge that Freshling may be entitled, in terms of POPIA, to collect, transfer and process your personal information irrespective of whether or not Freshling holds your consent to do so, but Freshling may however not be able to fully discharge its obligations to you, or otherwise fully serve you, in the event that it does not hold your aforementioned consent.

You herewith warrant and guarantee that all information provided by you to Freshling is true, accurate, complete, and not misleading, and further that no such information constitutes or contains any information which you are not fully authorised to share with and provide to Freshling. You have full right, title and authority to authorise, and to consent to, Freshling collecting, transferring and processing any and all information provided to Freshling by you. You undertake that you shall fully inform Freshling of any and all changes to any and all information provided to Freshling by you, as and when such changes occur without delay.
